Difficulty: Beginner 🍴🍴🍴🍴

Working time: 1 hour

Notebooks are more than just simple repositories for thoughts and ideas. With a little creativity, you can turn an ordinary notebook into a true work of art. Discover here how you can create your own personal design with the combination of napkin technique and painting stencils .

1. napkin technique apply

Tear out your desired motif from a napkin . Remove the bottom unprinted layers of paper from this piece so that you only have the thin top printed layer of napkin in front of you.

Apply a thin layer of napkin varnish. to the surface of the notebook. Carefully place the motif on the still damp notebook and smooth it out. Then apply another thin layer of napkin varnish on top: The napkin varnish sticks and seals your napkin motif with a fine finish on the notebook. Leave everything to dry well.

2. Using the painting stencil and mousse

As soon as the motif is dry, you can apply your painting stencil. The painting stencils allows you to create perfect motifs and patterns with paint without a brush.

Carefully spread the mousse over the stencil. using a palette knife or sponge. The mousse is a special paste that solidifies after drying and gives your design additional texture and dimension.

Carefully remove the stencil and allow the mousse to dry. The Time to dry: varies between 30 to 60 minutes, depending on the thickness of the application.

For a particularly impressive finish, you can heat the dried mousse with an embossing dryer. The heat causes the mousse to puff up and form a fascinating foam-like texture. The effect is not only visually appealing, but also gives your notebook a very special feel.
