

stretched canvas "Cheeky & Wild & Wonderful"

Instructions No. 1493

Difficulty: Advanced 🎨🎨🎨🎨

Working time: 1 hour

Give yourself a present of great painting fun and a great new mural: with handlettering on Stretched Canvas you can conjure up a great message on the wall, which will certainly always put you in a good mood

Prime with Spray paint!

The Stretched Canvas is primed with the airbrush technique

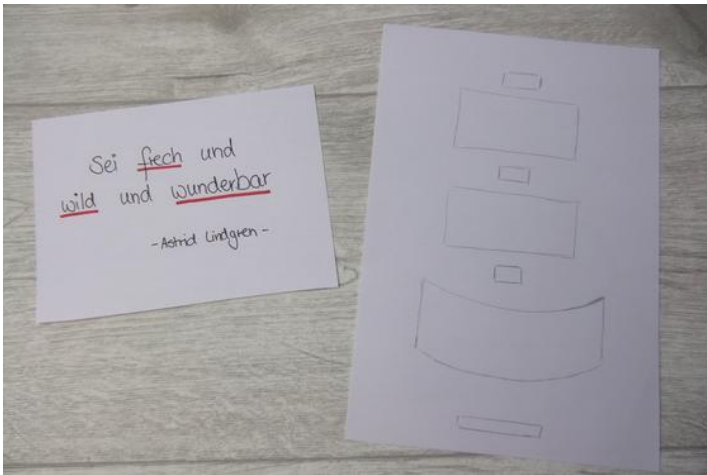

Before you start, the work surface should be well covered. The Acrylic paint is first shaken to ensure that the colour pigments are evenly distributed in the bottle. Then simply spray on the paint

Why a background with Colour spray?

Spray paint can be applied very quickly, it gives a nice glazed look without brush strokes. The different - sometimes more and sometimes less colour-intensive colour areas have a particularly exciting effect as background.

Design the lettering

A quotation from Astrid Lindgren was chosen for this idea: Be cheeky and wild and wonderful. Design your own personal message, the matching font and sketch on a sheet of paper a draft of how you imagine your Stretched Canvas to look like. A part of the message will be underlaid with a white banner.

Sketch out, Painting & Drawing

Drawing

With a white pen or with a dash-ex sign pen (the Ink erases itself after some time) you transfer your sketch to the Stretched Canvas.

Painting

First of all, design the coloured areas of the stretcher frame - here the white banner - with a brush and Acrylic paint. Recreate the message with opaque markers, set accents with black outlines, lines or golden dots.
